

The Royal-tea Club Presents:
Beautiful Bryn Athyn, PA
 Wednesday, October 18, 2017

Start your day at the Cairnwood Estate, Built in 1985 during America’s Gilded Age, the estate is the only existing Beaux-Arts style home in Pennsylvania. You’ll explore Cairnwood’s main house, private chapel, servant’s quarters, garden house, and the carriage house collections. Next you will visit the Glencairn Museum. Next to the Cairnwood Estate, Glencairn was built to house the Pitcairn family’s collection of medieval religious art. Our last tour will be at the Bryn Athyn Cathedral, a historical church known for its beautiful gothic and Romanesque architecture and beautiful stained glass windows. We board the coach and make our way to the Talking Teacup located in a beautifully restored 250 year old farm house. The group will enjoy a lovely afternoon tea.
